

Email Swipes – The Simple Online Income System

Use these emails as-is or edit them to match your voice. Replace [YOUR LINK] and [Your Name] before sending.

Email 1 — Subject: I think most “online income” advice misses the point

Hi,

I think most online income advice misses the point.

It usually sounds like you either need a giant audience, a complicated funnel, or a personality that enjoys living inside dashboards and spreadsheets.

And for most normal humans, that’s... not very encouraging.

That’s why I wanted to share something different called:

The Simple Online Income System

This isn’t built around hype or chasing the latest platform. It’s built around doing a few sensible things that actually stack up over time instead of constantly starting over.

If you’ve ever felt like you’re doing work but not really building anything that lasts, this will feel very familiar in a good way.

It walks through how to think about building online income in a calmer, more practical way that fits into real life instead of taking it over.

You can see it here:

[YOUR LINK]

If you’re tired of complicated plans that never quite stick, this is worth a look.

[Your Name]

Email 2 — Subject: Ever feel like you're busy... but not really getting anywhere?

Hi,

Have you ever had one of those weeks where you're busy the whole time, but at the end of it you're not totally sure what you actually moved forward?

That's pretty common when you're trying to build something online.

A lot of people aren't stuck because they're not trying. They're stuck because they're pulled in too many directions and don't have a simple, steady system.

That's what The Simple Online Income System is meant to help with.

It's not about doing more things. It's about doing fewer things that actually make sense and letting them build on each other over time.

If your to-do list keeps growing but your results don't, this will feel like a much better way to approach things.

You can take a look here:

[YOUR LINK]

[Your Name]

Email 3 — Subject: This is not one of those “do everything at once” plans

Hi,

I wanted to quickly explain what The Simple Online Income System actually is, because it's not one of those plans that expects you to suddenly become a content machine.

This is a step-by-step video training built around doing things in a more realistic order and at a pace that normal people can actually keep up with.

It's for people who want to build something steady instead of constantly jumping from idea to idea and wondering why nothing really sticks.

If you've ever felt like you've learned a lot but don't really have a simple structure tying it all together, this fills that gap.

You can see the full details here:
[YOUR LINK]

If you want something that feels more grounded and less chaotic, this will help.

[Your Name]

Email 4 — Subject: Why most plans look good on paper and fall apart in real life

Hi,

Most online business plans don't fail because they're bad ideas.

They fail because they're too complicated to live with.

They assume perfect motivation, perfect schedules, and a level of daily discipline that most of us only have for about three days in a row.

The Simple Online Income System was built with the opposite idea in mind.

Instead of trying to do everything, it focuses on building something simpler and more stable. Something you can keep going even when life gets busy, motivation dips, or you just don't feel like being a productivity superhero that day.

That's how things actually grow. Not by being perfect, but by being consistent.

If you want to stop restarting and start building something that actually lasts, take a look here:
[YOUR LINK]

[Your Name]

Email 5 — Subject: Just a quick follow-up (before this gets buried in your inbox)

Hi,

I just wanted to send a quick follow-up about The Simple Online Income System, because I know how this usually goes.

You see something interesting, think “I should look at that later,” and then it quietly disappears under 37 other emails and a reminder about a package you already received.

If building online income has been one of those things that always feels slightly messier or more complicated than it should, this training is meant to simplify the whole picture.

A lot of people don't actually need more ideas. They need a clearer path and a simpler structure they can actually stick with without feeling like their entire life has to revolve around it.

That's what this is about.

It's not about doing more. It's about doing a few smart things and giving them enough time to work instead of constantly starting over.

You can see it here:
[YOUR LINK]

If you've been meaning to take a look, this is a good time.

[Your Name]